Hunton & Williams Elects Manuel Maisog to Partnership

Hunton & Williams LLP is pleased to announce that Manuel E. “Bing” Maisog has been elected to the partnership of the firm.

Bing is a member of the energy and infrastructure practice group, resident in the firm’s newly opened office in Beijing, China. His practice focuses on China-related investment transactions, power plant construction and acquisition projects, and tracking of developments under the emerging data protection and information security laws of Asia. He also has experience from prior practice in public securities offerings and bank mergers, as well as in private securities placements and mergers and acquisitions.

“Bing has been a core member of the firm’s Asia practice since he joined the firm in 1996,” says Edward B. Koehler, who manages the firm’s offices in Asia. “He has been involved with numerous of the firm’s projects throughout the region, from the Philippines and Hong Kong to Thailand and Taiwan. He provides a tremendous amount of talent and reinforces our foundation in Greater China and Southeast Asia.”

Bing graduated from the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs of Princeton University. He received his masters and law degrees from Harvard University. He is a member of the Maryland State Bar in the United States.
